PROSECUTING ATTORNEY E. J. GEX ANNOUNCES FOR RE-ELECTION

Backed by Experience and Running Strictly on Own Merits—Has Served Public Always With Strictest Fidelity—Friend of People and Always Solicits Welfare of County.

Fulfilling the duties of the office county prosecuting attorney to the satisfaction of all concerned and wishing to continue serving both his county and his people, E. J. Gex announces in this issue of The Sea Coast Echo his candidacy for re-election to the office he fills.

Mr. Gex needs no introduction to the people of Hancock county. He has served them year in and year out, always at their disposal and ready for their demands. He has served the people of Hancock county privately and publicly and always to their satisfaction, hence it seems but fair that he asks for their favor at the polls in August and that he will receive an ample majority to assure his re-election.

Mr. Gex, while always strictly attending to the upholding of law and order, seeking the best interest of the county and its peace, has always endeavored to avoid the county from unnecessary expenditures, avoiding long and arduous trials when such trials were not necessary, thus saving the tax-payers the heavy expense of long terms of courts. However, no criminal or law-breaker has ever escaped just deserts.

He is perhaps best fitted for the office by reason of his experience; his wide acquaintance at home and over the court circuit, and the fact that he has served successfully during the years of his incumbency. It has been proven time and again that changing prosecuting attorneys for others is not only expensive but costly in more ways than one. We employ people in our private business who have not only ability but experience for we know the value of such services and what it means at the end.

Mr. Gex has never missed a term of court, has never failed to be present in any and all prosecutions and he has never been known to fail to give justice to whom justice is due. It is for this reason he has become popular with the public both officially and personally.

He is running strictly on his own merits. He has never attempted to pry into any one's race, nor to influence anyone's vote when it was not for self. Running strictly on his own race as he always has in the past, makes him clear of any political inference that might be displeasing.

"A public office is a public trust," says Mr. Gex, "and I feel that if the people have placed that confidence in me that secures my election that I in turn am bound by all that is right and honorable to serve them accordingly. I have always lived up to the oath of my office and as such I shall continue to serve. The records of the court of the county will bear me out in this. They serve as indelible records and I respectfully refer the voters and public in general to these books. It has been a pleasure and more than a satisfaction to serve my people of Hancock county and I ask re-election in order that I may be of continued service."

In publishing the formal announcement of Mr. Gex, candidate for county prosecuting attorney, The Sea Coast Echo asks for him the thoughtful consideration of one and all. If elected he will continue to serve all as in the past, personally as well as officially, always with that sense of strictest justice and kindest consideration.

$40,000 Coast Election

The Moss Point City Council has introduced attorneys for the city to proceed at once to give notice of an election to be held at the earliest possible date on a bond issue of $40,000 for school purposes, making the bonds a direct obligation of the municipality. Attorneys have advised that such a bond issue can be validated by the chancery court, provided no protest was registered against such validation; but if such protest were filed they advised the council to drop the whole matter. This would mean the losing of any government assistance, such as PWA.

The Bay Central P. T. A. held its regular monthly meeting at the school, Tuesday afternoon, April 9. The meeting opened with a prayer by Mrs. C. M. Shipp.

And that if the habits of thought are well balanced, the physical will take care of itself. According to Mrs. Jacobs there are four chief habits that parents should teach their children, namely—1. Reverence for all that is good and beautiful. 2. Deliberate choice between right and wrong. 3. Recognition of authority in the home, the school, the church, and the state. 4. Self analysis and control.

Always The Best Music For The Nite Club, Says Uncle Charlie Breath

Saturday evening of this week, April 13, Mr. Chas. A. Breath, proprietor Uncle Charlie's Nite Club, promises another treat for lovers of good music and other patrons fond of dancing to real dance music. He has secured for this occasion a return engagement of Jack Weber's Orchestra, which scored a decided hit some two or three weeks ago.

Starting Easter Saturday the price of admission will go back to $1.20 (including federal tax) for gentlemen, ladies free. The restoration of former prices is due to the fact "Uncle Charlie" is only contracting with the best in orchestral dance music, bands of ability and reputation, in order to please his patrons. Asking the patrons to pay the tax is only a small advance and is legitimate. It will afford and makes for the permanent maintenance of only the best in music. This change will take effect Saturday night of next week—not this Saturday.

HANCOCK COUNTY FARMERS MAY NOW APPLY FOR LOANS

Crop and Feed Loans Are Available and May Be Applied For at the County Agent's Office

Field Supervisor Geo. M. Foote of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office at Bay St. Louis, states that applications for emergency crop loans and feed loans are now being received by the Hancock County Loan Committee, with offices located at County Agent's Office.

In accordance with the Act of Congress authorizing the loans, and regulations issued by Governor W. L. Myers of the Farm Credit Administration, loans will be made only to farmers who are unable to obtain elsewhere seed, fertilizers, supplies, feed or the necessary credit to purchase such items.

The regulations provide that the largest loan to one farmer this year is $500 and the minimum $10, but no loan may be made in an amount greater than is actually needed to cover the cash cost of purchasing seed, fertilizers, supplies, feed, etc. Loans will be made for the purpose of growing and harvesting crops, for summer following, for purchasing feed for livestock, but not for the purpose of purchasing livestock or machinery, or for the payment of debts or taxes.

Loans will be made only to applicants who are cooperating with the Production Control Program of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

As in the past, the security for an emergency crop or feed loan will consist of a first lien on the crop financed or on the livestock to be fed. A tenant must also give a first lien by claiming the landowner to have his claim in favor of the crop lien; but the landowner is in no way obligated for repayment of his tenant's loan.

Checks in payment of approved loans will be issued by the Regional Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office at Memphis, Tenn.; and not by the field supervisor or the loan committee.

Mrs. Armide Hale To Form Children's Shakes- peare Story Telling Club

The Echo is informed that plans are being completed for a children's Story Telling Club, with the assistance of teachers and local educators, and will have a branch in Bay St. Louis shortly.

Mrs. Armide Hale has been appointed director because of her splendid qualifications.

The purpose of the club is to acquaint the Grade and Jr. High school children with William Shakespeare's works in simplified form and at the same time giving them a complete course in constructive dramatics, expression and story-telling, which will give them a better understanding of the classics in their high school English studies.

It is desired to give every eligible child an opportunity to enroll in one of the clubs that will be formed here as a branch of the main organization which has been immensely successful throughout the United States and Canada.

The clubs will be formed for the different grades and will meet periodically, and Shakespeare's plays will be dramatized.

From time to time games will be played and the children made acquainted with Shakespearean music and dancing.

Prizes will be offered the best story tellers and diplomas awarded each child who has completed the prescribed course.

The course will be concluded with a Shakespearean play or pageant having the children portray the characters. Part of the proceeds will be donated to the St. Joseph's Club.

Armand J. Besancon Dies Sunday Morning as Result of Saturday Night Accident—Wife Has Narrow Escape From Death

To Be Held In Bay St. Louis At Central High School, Saturday, April 13.

J. A. Bozeman, Hancock county agent, announces to The Echo that the annual county 4-H Club rally will be held at the Bay High School Building in Bay St. Louis on Saturday, April 13th. Every Club member and 4-H leader is expected to attend this rally and take part in the program.

A good time is in store for every club member who should also receive a real inspiration to do his best this year in club work. Each club member will be expected to bring his truck, but in addition to that each club member will be given a cold drink and a cone of ice cream if possible.

Help your Club to win this cup by attending and taking an active part in the rally, says Mr. Bozeman. The club roll, as it now stands, will be the basis of figuring in the percentage of attendance, and no last minute enrollment of changes in the roll will be permitted. The program will start promptly at 9:00 o'clock with the registration of members. Leaders should have rally so as to facilitate registration. Each club president or secretary will be expected to give a report of the progress of the work of the club this year. These reports should be brief and to the point. Each club will give the 4-H Club pledge in unison and will be judged on this. Be sure to practice the pledge together, says the announcement.

Caterpillars Pests Infest Local Oak And Pecan Trees

Chetsley Hines, Harrison county agent, reports that many property owners on the Coast are alarmed over the presence of caterpillars on oak and other shade trees. Upon investigation, it was found that the trees are infested with the Forest Tent Caterpillar. This caterpillar is similar in appearance and habits to the walnut caterpillar that attacks the walnut in the summer and fall. This pest is usually not serious, as parasites, birds and other natural enemies normally hold the pest in check. It is believed these natural enemies will control the caterpillars within a few days, as soon as it gets warmer.

The best methods of control are to crush the masses of caterpillars when found on the trunk and branches of trees, mop or spray the masses with kerosene, or burn off. Care should be taken however, not to damage the tree by the kerosene or fire. On small trees if equipment for spraying large trees is available, the caterpillars can easily be controlled by spraying the foliage with arsenate of lead spray, using it at the rate of 2 pounds of arsenate of lead and 5 pounds lime to 50 gallons of water.

This pest is found to abound not only in Harrison but in Hancock as well. In Bay St. Louis it is noted many of the oaks and pecan trees are literally covered with the pest. However, local treatment eradicates the caterpillars and the danger is removed.

A large increase in the amount of income tax collected by the State Tax Commission this year, for the year 1934, has been realized over the total amount collected for the year 1933, according to a statement recently from Hon. Alf Stone, State Tax Chairman. The report of Chairman on March the 18th, showed a total of $297,522.00 collected this year against a total of only $107,577.00 up to the same date last year. This is an increase of approximately $190,000.00, or nearly two hundred per cent.

It is strongly in favor of a most common-sense platform. Regarding the 3,000,000 acres of land reverting to the State as delinquent tax lands, he says he is opposed to the government engaging in land selling business, that he continued is for people in that business. The State should return this vast holding of lands to the original holders under provisions of law to be enacted and with proper provision.

Lt-Governor is opposed to the State government engaging in any sort of business. He says the government must not compete with the people in business pursuit. It has plenty to do if it attends strictly to its own official business and its officials to their duties. Wednesday morning, before leaving, he fraternized about town for a short while and was given a warm welcome wherever he visited.

Lt-Governor Murphree is well known over the State and nation as the originator and manager each year of "Know Mississippi Better Train."

He has written many a letter and has renewed a note that he gave me forty times.

Armand J. Besancon, native of France, aged 46 years and 11 months, died at Bay St. Louis King's Daughters Hospital shortly before ten o'clock Sunday morning as a result of a motor truck accident at the Louisville & Nashville R. R. Second street crossing at 7 o'clock Saturday evening.

Besancon and his wife were driving along Second street in a northerly direction when he halted for Train No. 10 from New Orleans, to go by. Resuming his driving he failed to note train No. 1, en route to New Orleans, an opposite direction, coming on him. His truck was on the track when the train struck it, hitting it broadside in that part where the door was located and where Mrs. Besancon, accompanying her husband, was seated.

Fore part of the locomotive crashing into the truck carried it fully a block before it halted. A double-header, the engine of the first locomotive could not stop as quickly as he tried without first giving the signal of distress to the engineer of the second locomotive. The train halted, the truck was taken down from its position and the occupants finally extricated and in an unconscious condition, from which he never recovered. He died from a fractured skull, it was stated.

A large crowd congregated around the train, which was delayed forty minutes by the accident, and both victims rushed to the local hospital. Local doctors were on hand and every attention possible was given without delay. Little hope was held out for Besancon, accordingly he passed away the morning following.

It developed that the condition of the wife was serious to the extent that she was removed Sunday afternoon to King's Daughters at Gulfport, where X-ray and other equipment was to be had and used. However, she was returned to Bay St. Louis hospital that evening.

Besancon was engaged in the freight hauling business and was industrious and attentive to his business. He was perhaps better known by many people as night engineer for the local ice plant, where he served many patrons with unusual courtesy and attention. He was a good citizen. The funeral took place Monday from the late residence in Ballentine street, near the O. S. T. He is survived by nine children, brothers and sisters and his aged father, Alfred Besancon, a resident of North Beach Boulevard. His funeral was largely attended, many sorrowing relatives and friends attending the last rites.

Mrs. Besancon was severely injured about the right leg and hip, breaking the member and sustaining a number of other injuries and painful bruises. Dr. C. L. Horton is the physician in charge. The ultimate recovery is expected, it was stated.

Lt-Governor Dennis Murphree Visits Bay St. Louis and Friends

Lt-Governor Dennis Murphree, who met many friends and acquaintances and the public in general at the courthouse Tuesday evening, was a welcome caller on his long-time friend, publisher of The Echo, and the force of office and plant as well.

Lt-Governor Murphree has a most engaging personality, he is a man of the people which he has proven in public office all of his official life. He is strongly in favor of a most common-sense platform. Regarding the 3,000,000 acres of land reverting to the State as delinquent tax lands, he says he is opposed to the government engaging in land selling business, that he continued is for people in that business. STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN.

ALL accidents, particularly where fatality is involved, are regrettable and general sympathy goes out for the bereaved. It has been said all accidents are avoidable but if they were surely there would be none.

The accident in Bay St. Louis Saturday night when a husband and father of nine children subsequently lost his life and the mother left in a precarious condition, fell like a pall over the city that night and Sunday.

Story of the occurrence tells both Mr. and Mrs. Bescanson were on the driver's seat of a truck, enroute to Gulfport, leaving their children at home and planning to return to their loved ones that evening at a later hour. The husband at the wheel had taken care to avoid contact with one passing train; he felt clearing one train that the road was clear and venturing on it appears as his vehicle had reached the center of the railroad track a train of which he was unaware came on with suddenness that caused the fearful impact, wrecking the truck on the side where the wife was seated, carrying it on its wake of death until it was halted.

Truly in the midst of life death strikes at every side. It is no respecter of persons, age or reason, position or station, time and place. If we are to learn a lesson from this fatality it is this that we never can be overcautious, too careful nor may we fear to over exercise judgment and take nothing for granted. The injunction to stop, look and listen, always holds good.

Buying from out of town agents does very little to improve the business of Bay St. Louis.

WHY THIS RESENTFUL ATTITUDE?

ONE need not be told of the many improvements going on in and around Bay St. Louis. The casual driver sees a veritable march of improvements going on—new buildings in course of construction, dwellings and other places undergoing renovation and painting. It has been a long time since one has seen so much of this kind of work going on in Bay St. Louis and Waveland. Structures that have stood for years the ravages of time until no more paint remains and little of the supporting construction remains are now in the hands of carpenters, plumbers and painters, being made over. There has not been so much work in progress as at present in this city for at least a period of five years. And this, we are told, is but the beginning. May this work continue and our home people procure employment.

It is a pity there is such a disposition rampant for labor to fight capital; for the ones with moderate means to be fought by the poor classes, for after all, it is only the ones reputed to have a dollar or two who can assist the poor willing to work. The poor in too many cases harbor resentment for those in a position to be of assistance to them. Many of the down-trodden would have the world—every man—pulled down to their own level. Where would the world be? The disposition to fight railroads, corporations and individuals able to give employment is only too apparent and entirely too frequent. Why this untenable attitude?

Intelligent individuals should read a book or its equivalent every week.

REAL ESTATE AGENT COMMUNITY ASSET

A LIVE and constructive real estate agent is an asset to any community. If he is honest, representative and substantial he at once gains the confidence of the public and people will trade with him. Real estate agents interview and solicit people to buy; they sell the beauties and climate of Bay-Waveland and vicinity; they inspire their prospective and prove the desirability of living here all the year round. They prove the health-giving properties of this section to those who might be only able to get away for summer; that it is a resort second to none for children and parents seeking such place and not slow to buy or rent.

Not only Bay St. Louis but every community in America has been sold to the public by real estate agents. They are among the best advertisements for our community and should always be encouraged.

Justice Virgil Griffith has issued a restraining order for thirty days on the 18 per cent reduction in telephone exchange rates throughout the state recently ordered by the Mississippi Railroad Commission. This was to give the telephone company time to perfect its bill of injunction. The matter is now held up until a final hearing is had from the Supreme Court.

Statement made by the State Treasurer recently shows the state in pretty fine financial shape. On April 1st there was $2,651,600 in the general fund, and more than one and one-half millions in special funds, making a total of $4,163,317.55 in the treasury. When it is considered that on January first three years ago the State was practically bankrupt, the condition of the treasury today is very gratifying.

WHAT ARE THEY WAITING FOR

FOR quite a while back Mississippi Highway Commission authorities have been surveying at least three different proposed routes from the Louisiana Shortcut to come into Hancock county through to Bay St. Louis and we understand as yet the matter has not been definitely settled.

Mississippi can only give Louisiana this response that their highway commission will be ready with the local highway connection in ample time before completion of surfacing the short-cut. And the truth of the matter Mississippi authorities do not know as yet just where the route is going to follow when it leaves Pearlinton to that point of contact with the Old Spanish Trail.

It appears to the average man that both a good deal of time and money has been wasted in attempting to determine a route and the building of same. The shortcut way through should be the determining factor. The last and latest survey, we understand, is a survey through swamps and low lands, while other routes will take the road through high and dry areas.

Unless Mississippi is playing for time, the whole procedure strikes one as being stupid and expensive. Louisiana is now ready; bids have been opened and accepted for hard-surfacing the Shortcut as it runs through Louisiana and soon actual work will have begun.

The question arises, will Mississippi be there with its share of the Shortcut? Will its route have been selected, will the road have been built and will it be hardsurfaced?

Other States build roadways and do it quickly and expeditiously. Mississippi, however, as noted over the State, does it piecemeal, sporadically and not to the general satisfaction of the public.

Recently the writer had occasion to travel many miles over various sections of Louisiana by auto and found seemingly endless miles of concrete roadways wherever our destination took us. These roads were built within a comparative short time, there were no unnecessary delays and the present generation of tax-payers is enjoying the roads which their money help build.

Will Mississippi have its Shortcut finished and hardsurfaced in time for Louisiana? Will the present generation see the completion? The Shortcut has been proposed and discussed for many years. People of that time, now grown, were children. May you, dear reader, live to see the Shortcut in Mississippi first finally decided upon as to which route will be adopted and subsequently finished.

THE BENEFIT OF MISSIONS

THERE came to a close at the local Catholic church last Sunday evening a week's mission, conducted by two Redemptorist fathers, under auspices of the local pastor and to which each of the daily morning and evening lectures many attended. It was necessary at night to add extra chairs in addition to the spacious pew accommodation. Men and women in all walks of life hastened to church each morning and evening to be present and as the week wore on the attendance grew larger. Not only Catholics but men and women of other denominations attended from time to time.

The mission is not only a spiritual revival but a time when one learns more about God and the church; a time when one makes an inventory of self and finds his shortcomings and a time when one seems to come closer to God and finally realizes that he is not only a better person but a better citizen. Too frequently, we are content with ourselves and chose the path of least resistance and finally fall into a state of lethargy from which a mission or revival finally rouses us and brings one back to a consciousness of all things that are right and proper.

The Mission wields a great and lasting influence and leaves its lasting impress. The dross from one's self is removed and only the pure and unalloyed metal of the causes of righteousness and to do unto others as we would have them do unto us remains.

READ ADVERTISING: IT PAYS

THE Sea Coast Echo will appreciate very much if its subscribers will look over the advertisements of local merchants in this issue. By doing so you will see what a varied line of goods can be purchased here, and the prices will convince you that local merchants are doing their part in making Bay St. Louis a live, up-to-date merchandising center.

When you go into a store to buy an advertised article this newspaper will appreciate it more if you will kindly tell the merchant that you saw his advertisement. This will encourage him to advertise with us, help us to present advertising each week that will keep you informed as to merchandising events, and also go far towards enabling us to improve our newspaper.

Any community is judged by the outside world, to a large extent, from the newspaper it permits to go abroad. We are without apology for the Sea Coast Echo knowing full well that it is as good as any in the nation, in view of its clientele and its support. The average newspaper man, and we claim to be one, takes much pride in his journal, and is constantly expanding it faster than circumstances warrant.

THE POWER OF ADVERTISING

THE story is told that a man saw a breakfast food attractively advertised in a magazine and bought a package of it only to be disappointed by finding that it tasted like the by-product of a saw mill. In disgust he offered it to the dog, but the dog only sniffed it and refused to eat it. But the next day the man saw a beautiful bill board and a man pictured eating the same breakfast food with relish, so he got another package and went home to try it with the mixture of berries and cream over it as shown in the advertisement. He managed only a bite or two and again passed it on to the dog, but the dog wouldn't even sniff it. Continuing to see beautiful advertisements in magazines, newspapers, colored folders, etc., the power of advertising was so effective that eventually he learned to eat the new breakfast food with much relish. But the dog never could learn to eat it, because he couldn't read the advertisements.

CRIME DOES NOT PAY

RAY Hamilton, 22-year-old bandit, Public Enemy No. 1, recently apprehended in railroad yards at Dallas, Texas, and returned to the death house at Huntsville, Texas, where he was awaiting execution when he escaped, has been returned to the scene of the electric chair and will be resented again to die during the early part of May for the killing of a guardsman.

Hamilton had made good his escape and his trial left a series of bank and other holdups, including the robbery of a bank at Prentiss, Miss. He will not escape this time. Every precaution necessary for his safety from escape has been safeguarded and he will soon pass away from where he can no longer kill, rob and plunder and the last chapter of this young life will have been written. And soon he will have been forgotten.

This is the repetition of many a similar story where crime is involved. It has been proven repeatedly that crime does not pay. It takes its toll and takes it in the most exacting manner, even to the last drop of blood. Will not the young who read this and others who may read the same thought over elsewhere take heed. Why do people rob ruthlessly and murder mercilessly? What is there to crime? What is the incentive, the gain, the reward, if any? The price is high for nothing in return.

TAX-FORFEITED LANDS

ATTORNEY Greek Rice has framed a bill which he hopes to have proposed at the forthcoming special session of the Mississippi Legislature. The bill plans to allow the State to sell its some 3,000,000 acres of land-forfeited property to individuals who would buy at a resale or others could buy at a cost that would bring the property back on the assessment lists and pay for same in long and easy payments.

The bulk of this land is fast growing into wilderness and almost becoming waste land. It will take work and money to redeem it from waste to cultivated lands. The danger of such bill should it become law, it is pointed out, that a necessary safeguard should be established in order to keep speculators barred.

What to do with this bulk of tax-forfeited land has become a serious problem and it behooves the next session of the Legislature to solve the problem by applying a remedy that will prove revenue producing to the State.

COMMISSIONER TO HEAR INSURANCE CASES

I HAVE introduced a bill providing for a commissioner in Mississippi to hear war-risk insurance cases. Under the bill the commissioner would be appointed by the two Federal judges of the state, and he would have jurisdiction to hear without a jury and render judgment on any cases brought in either district court on a contract of war-risk insurance. The bill would be in force until all of these cases have been disposed of or for a period of five years from the date of enactment, whichever is the earlier date.

The purpose of the bill is to relieve the present congestion of the docket on these cases. The court has so many matters to pass on that it has an opportunity to hear only from one to five cases a term out of the several hundred on the docket. Unless something is done, many of the veterans and their witnesses will be dead before their cases come to trial. It seems to me only right that a fair trial be given these cases as early as possible. These cases arose out of a definite insurance contract between the veterans and the Government, a certain percentage of the soldier's pay having been deducted each month for the premium.

A NEW BANKHEAD BILL

Sometime ago Senator John H. Bankhead, co-sponsor of the cotton control bill of last session, introduced very interesting bill to make loans to tenants to purchase land. The bill proposes that an agency somewhat similar to the H. O. L. C. be established to administer the funds. Only tenants would be eligible for loans to purchase lands already in cultivation. The loans would bear a low rate of interest and would be to encourage tenants to become independent land owners. Senator Bilbo, who has given much study to agricultural problems in the South, is among the sponsors of this bill. He is a member of the Senate sub-committee considering this legislation.

PROMISE TO SUPPORT BILLS

A member of Congress is often requested to pledge himself for or against some bill. It is rather difficult to do this under ordinary conditions, for legislation is seldom enacted into law in the form in which it is originally proposed. The committee to which the bill is referred usually amends the bill and sometimes rewrites it entirely. It may also be amended when it comes up on the floor. As a result it may be an entirely different bill when it comes up for final passage.

DROPS NRA TEST

The test of the NRA, scheduled to go before the Supreme Court on April 8th, (under the Belcher case, will not occur as the government plans to drop its appeal. The idea is to let the NRA build up solid achievement before permitting a decisive court test.

building with so much enthusiasm? Don't you know it will ruin Slidell?" Our subscriber, who pays his subscription every year, will be able to continue to pay for his paper long after the "cut" is finished. Slidell will well be able to take care of itself. It will be better off when it will cease depending on the many nickels that find way in the slot machines and the dimes that buy a few sandwiches. Industries with payrolls spell more for the people.

It Protects Individual and Commercial Interests

MORE than anything else—more, even than the assistance it gives in building an estate—a bank protects. Whether it be a dollar deposited in a new savings account, an estate entrusted to its care, or priceless keepsakes and important documents placed for safekeeping in its vaults, a bank protects.

With The Movies And Film Folks

HOLLYWOOD and the screen world at large is watching with interest the admitted experiment of Paramount in placing Ernst Lubitsch at its production helm. However, his tactics in signing King Vidor and Lewis Milestone as directors and the renewing of Wesley Ruggles' contract shows that he knows what he is about and the feeling of doubt is rapidly vanishing.

Metro is busy with elaborate plans for two of its most ambitious musicals, "The Great Ziegfeld," recently bought from Universal, and "Broadway Melody of 1935." More than $1,000,000 is to be expected on each of these projects and the studio is determined that each shall be outstanding in its type.

So pleased with the story elements in "Cat's Paw," Harold Lloyd asked Clarence Budington Kelland to write another for his 1935 production. However, when the story was completed, and the serial rights purchased by a magazine, the comedian turned it down. It has now been bought by Samuel Goldwyn for Eddie Cantor's next picture. Its title is "Dreamland."

Robert Donat and Bette Davis are to have the leading roles in Warner Brothers' production of "Captain Blood," which promises to be one of their more ambitious efforts of the season.

In making his latest effort, Charlie Chaplin varied from the usual and tried using a scrip in filming, "The Masses." However, he became exasperated and finally returned to his ancient method of "shooting from the cuff."

According to Samuel Goldwyn, the best years of an actress are those from 16 to 22 and unless they are stars by the time they reach the age limit of 22, they should give up and return to their former vocations.

According to Stepin Fecit, Negro movie actor famous for his "lazy" roles, all the world needs to cure it in these troublesome times is rest and "more rest."

According to latest reports, Max Reinhardt, producer, plans to become an American citizen and divorce his Latvian wife and all at the same time. Then it is rumored, he will marry Helen Thimig, his assistant.

As a result of his work in a picture starring Claudette Colbert, Samuel S. Hinds, former Pasadena, Cal., attorney, has been given a contract at a major studio.

Colleen Moore's "Enchanted Castle," a doll house trimmed in gold and studded with diamonds, valued by its owner at $435,000 has been completed after several years' work and will be exhibited over the nation for the benefit of crippled children. The dream castle, which represents many childhood stories, has electric lights, running water, eleven rooms and is fifteen feet high.

In a poll conducted among women in England as to who was the greatest woman living, Mae West ran Queen Mary a close race. The women patriotically voted for their queen and selected Miss West as runner up.

Fox has switched Tito Guizar, radio singer, from the cast of "Argentina," now in preparation, to that of "Under the Pampas Moon," in which Warner Baxter and Ketti Gallian have featured roles.

Jean Parker, who made such a hit in "Sequoia," will have the female lead in MGM's production of "Murder in the Fleet."

Binnie Barnes, English actress, has arrived in this country to appear for Universal in "Diamond Jim." After that she will work on the screen version of Anthony Thorne's novel, "Delay in the Sun," in which she will be co-starred with Frank Lawton.

Virginia Cherril and Cary Grant have come to the parting of the ways, with the usual consequence—divorce. She charged Grant with excessive drinking, choking and beating her and threatening her life.

CLAUDETTE COLBERT STAR OF CHARMING COMEDY FILM

'The Gilded Lily' at A. & G.
Theater, Sunday and Monday

The glamorous and lissome Claudette Colbert, in the first singing and dancing role since her hit performance in "Torch Singer," is the principal attraction of Paramount's gay and sophisticated "The Gilded Lily," at the A. & G. Theatre, Sunday and Monday.

A saucy, audacious and unusual comedy about a pretty girl who wants to be a hard-working wife to a poor man, the picture features two handsome leading men, Fred MacMurray and Ray Milland in support of Miss Colbert.

MacMurray as a reporter, and Miss Colbert, an obscure stenographer, are a pair of goofy but lovable people who celebrate their regular Thursday evening date by sitting on a park bench and munching popcorn while they watch the world go by.

This happy, little institution is broken up when Miss Colbert meets Milland, a handsome, young English nobleman, visiting the United States incognito, and falls head over heels in love with him. She learns the truth about Milland eventually, and MacMurray, overnight, booms her into a sensation as the girl who has jilted a duke. Still in love with Milland, she goes to England as a night-club sensation.

But the resuscitated romance proves successful, as most of them do, except for one thing; it proves to Miss Colbert that the newspaper reporter was the man she had loved all the time. And, since he had known that all along, there is no trouble in reuniting them. In the final sequence we see this blissful pair of adorable idiots happily encoined on their park bench again, like rulers on a throne.

The film boasts some swell music and a catchy tune, "Something About Romance," by Sam Coslow and Arthur Johnston. No little praise is due Wesley Ruggles for direction that whipped this fast-paced, sprightly comedy bit into shape.

TO THE TAXPAYERS AND PROPERTY OWNERS OF HANCOCK COUNTY

We take this method of calling your attention to the fact that an emergency act for the payment of all property tax was passed in 1934 extending the time for the sale of delinquent taxes until September, this however, was an emergency act for 1934 only, therefore it becomes necessary for the sheriffs of the various counties to sell property in April or as soon thereafter as the Board of Supervisors may designate a date for that sale. This office is now checking the rolls and will on the 15th day of April 1935 start writing up all delinquent taxes upon which no part of the taxes has been paid. After that date the regular 2 per cent penalty as required by law will be charged.

For those who took advantage of the partial payment plan having paid one half in February 1935 notice is hereby given that the second payment will be due and payable not later than the first day of May 1935, and in the event the second payment is not made it will then become necessary to add the 2 per cent penalty to the unpaid balance of said tax. It is also our opinion that those who are aspiring to any office will under the law be compelled to pay the second and third payments respectively by the first day of May, 1935 or otherwise they will be disqualified from holding office. Trusting that we have made plain the status of these cases to each and every property holder and also to each candidate for any office. We beg to remain,

Your very truly,
T. E. KELLAR,
Tax Collector.

Very Much Improved After Taking Cardui

"I have suffered a great deal from cramping," writes Mrs. W. A. Sevel, Sr., of "Waco, Texas." "I would chill and have to go to bed for about three days at a time. I would have a dull, tired, sleepy feeling. A friend told me to try Cardui, thinking it would help me—and it did. I am very much improved and do not spend the time in bed. I certainly can recommend Cardui to other sufferers." "Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them—it does not benefit YOU, unless a physician."

BANK WORKER DRIVES 48 HOURS, SWEETHEART'S BODY IN AUTOMOBILE

Macalusa Near Breakdown After 60 Sleepless Hours—
Claims Vigil Induced by Fear of Publicity.

An unusual story comes from New Orleans, involving people known in this county, residents at one time of Kiln, and who have relatives and reside at that point 13 miles out from Bay St. Louis.

Steve Macaluso, 32, who kept the body of his sweetheart, pretty Miss Grace Wolfe Gonzalez, 32, crammed in the rear compartment of his automobile for 49 hours after, he said, she committed suicide, nervously awaited further questioning Tuesday by police, who disbelieve the story. Worn and haggard after 60 sleepless hours Macaluso was on the verge of a nervous breakdown, police said. He was held without charge pending conclusion of an investigation begun late Monday afternoon.

Shot Saturday
From Saturday afternoon, when he says Mrs. Gonzalez shot herself, until late Monday when he drove about the city with her body stuffed in the rear of his car, he has had no rest.

Fear of publicity, the loss of his job, and concern for his mother, prevented him from reporting the woman's death Saturday, he claimed. Accompanied by Mrs. Gonzalez's father, John R. Wolfe and her sister Mrs. Irene Malini, 23, Macaluso drove to the criminal courts building and reported to District Attorney Eugene Stanley that her body was in his automobile.

The woman had been shot once through the left breast, the bullet passing entirely through her body, according to a coroner's report. The wound was powder burned.

Police reported they were unable to find the bullet in the upholstery of Macaluso's car although he claimed the woman shot herself while seated in the automobile.

"She had been drinking Saturday," Macaluso told the District Attorney, "and threatened to kill herself. She found my pistol in the car, and fired a shot into the air while we were at a sandwich stand."

"Later while we were riding on the outskirts of the city she grabbed the gun again. Before I could stop her, she shot herself."

Frantic with grief and afraid of the consequences, Macaluso stuffed the still-warm body of his sweetheart into the rear compartment, he said.

Drives and Drives
"I began driving around. I drove all Saturday afternoon and Saturday night. I went home early Sunday but couldn't sleep. I drove again. I don't know where all I went."

"Monday I drove around some more. I was nearly crazy, and I didn't know what to do."

During his driving he had picked up Mrs. Malini but found he could not tell her of the death, he said. Monday morning he picked up the dead woman's father, and drove him home. Later he called Mrs. Malini and described the death of her sister. Then he got her father and drove with them to the criminal courts building.

Mrs. Gonzalez was divorced from her husband, Thomas Gonzalez last December. She had been separated about 6 months and was going with Macaluso at the time. She has a three-year-old daughter.

Macaluso was the manager of the New Orleans Branch of the Federal Reserve bank.

CHANCERY SUMMONS

THE STATE OF MISSISSIPPI.

To Katherine Wolbrecht Lorio, Forster George Wolbrecht, and the Whitney National Bank of New Orleans.

You are summoned to appear before the Chancery Court of the County of Hancock, in said State, on the Second Monday of May, A. D. 1935, to defend the suit No. 3727 in said Court of John Wolbrecht, et al, being a suit for the partition of Lots 5 and 6, of the Fourth Ward of the City of Bay St. Louis, Hancock County, Miss., as per the map or plat thereof made by E. S. Drake, C. E., and filed in the office of the Chancery Clerk of Hancock County, Miss., on May 1st, 1923, wherein you are Defendants.

This 11th day of April, A. D. 1935. (SEAL) A. G. FAVRE, Clerk.

TO THE TAX PAYERS AND PROPERTY OWNERS OF
HANCOCK COUNTY

We take this method of calling your attention to the fact that an emergency act for the payment of all property tax was passed in 1934 extending the time for the sale of delinquent taxes until September, this however, was an emergency act for 1934 only, therefore it becomes necessary for the sheriffs of the various counties to sell property in April or as soon thereafter as the Board of Supervisors may designate a date for that sale. This office is now checking the rolls and will on the 15th day of April 1935 start writing up all delinquent taxes upon which no part of the taxes has been paid. After that date the regular 2 per cent penalty as required by law will be charged.

For those who took advantage of the partial payment plan having notice is hereby given that the second payment will be due and payable not later than the first day of May 1935, and in the event the second payment is not made it will then become necessary to add the 2 per cent penalty to the unpaid balance of said tax.

It is also our opinion that those who are aspiring to any office will under the law be compelled to pay the second and third payments respectively by the first day of May, 1935 or otherwise they will be disqualified from holding office.

Trusting that we have made plain the status of these cases to each and every property holder and also to each candidate for any office. We beg to remain.

Yours very truly,

T. E. KELLAR,

Tax Collector.
